No options menu, no skirmish mode, no tutorial. I go, you go type turnbased gameplay isn't suitable for naval combat. Very very very bad game. It's bad, awfull, did i say it's bad? This actually is one of the worst games i ever played.. Very entertaining game. The throw, slow, shoot mechanic is extremely addictive and watching bullets fall in slow motion while pounding music plays gets the adrenaline pumping. The visual style of the game is a cool sci-fi aesthetic and it's a minor but engaging addition to be able to see player arms move with the controllers in game. There's not a lot of content here, but what is there is polished and seems very replayable.. Episode 2 done.

Hoes, Double Barrle Shotguns, Fists of Fury! Fighting MONKEYS. MECHA ROBOT BATTLE! What more could you want from a game.

Sadly, as the protagonist you are still without a place to call home. First a giant robot, then a truck. What next. You finally find a place and it gets burned down to the ground. As the anger dwells inside you the more powerful you and your hoe become!.

As you complete this episode, one thought continually crosses your mind, whats the plan, where am I going to sleep tonight.

Worth playing in my opinion. Just be sure to play through Episode 1 before picking up Episode 2. As your quest to find a bed to sleep on and shelter to keep you warm continue, Cya next time in Ep 3.. This is Luftrausers without the plane customization. Luftrausers is the better package, but I think that this is actually has better gameplay (and it certainly looks better too). I wouldn't spend my last 7 dollars on this game, but if you are in the market for a fast paced arcade-style single stick shooter, this is about as good as they come.

I want to also mention that the controls are really fantastic. It doesn't feel like you're really "flying" a plane, but the inertia is good and everything is very responsive.

This game really needs more content. It's right on the borderline for a sellable game. I really hope to see this game updated with additional enemies, upgrades, player fighters, and game modes.. this game is the reason Day-Z will never leave Alpha. 2 spooky 4 me

-Dean Hall. I really like this game. It reminds of games from the 80's and 90s. Good buy!. terribly excited over trying this game, love indie horror.

full graphics settings, looks brilliant, control is awesome

see a phone, answer, hide in bathroom, chairs get thrown at me but my cat like reflexes allows me to dodge...go in office get the passcode to the door

get to the door unharmed but notice some black cloud like clumps just around the corner

Face door, go to input the code, mouse will not click the buttons no matter what I do. 4.5 hours is actually afk left myself standing there, luckily these demons dont attack if you are away taking care of irl stuff...

restart, get stuck at same part, cannot input door code....

Watched walk through on youtube, Must have been fun, continued to look great throughout.

I can't get into the game let alone play it. I have tried the suggestion posted and nothing works. Same on Challenge 2. Very disappointed. because I loved the original and would play it constantly.. GAME COMPLETED. best 30 mins of my LIFE. Good idea for game, but bad created.. There are a lot of bugs, so i refunded my money.. Wow. Definitely the worst Myst game in my opinion. Right from the start you notice the LACK of detail that was so rich in all of the other games. A couple of the ages you visit are nicely done, but man, that last one is just so awful. Cheap. It looks cheap.

While the voice acting is generally good, the animated characters are poorly constructed and badly animated. I suppose you should play URU before playing this game, but I couldn't even get into URU... so maybe that's the worst Myst game...

Anyway, the puzzles are just OK. The story is... I don't know... why? Why should we care? Not recommended.. $10 \times 6 = 60$
 $8 \times 7 = 56$
 $9 \times 9 = 81$

etc. etc. etc.

Basically, this game is a glorified spreadsheet program. Your goal is to take known variables and combine them with hidden variables to get a rating that is as close to 100 as possible. For example: You create a show. In that show you have to create matches and "angles." Angles are basically the story elements. You pretty much have to just use your imagination. Seriously, all angles actually do is tell the program to compare the stats of two or more workers. In it's simplest form, (wrestler A) * (wrestler b) * (product, or fan expectations) = final rating. Now in reality, there are actually hundreds of variables to consider, but that's pretty much it.

The storylines are whatever you say they are. You can do this because you are role playing. You can type whatever you want into the story field and it makes no difference at all. You can even leave it empty. Seriously, all I could think of while trying to create a story was that episode of Family Guy where Peter lets Stewie play with his sock.

So to recap: I paid $20 for a spreadsheet/calculator program where 90% of the gameplay is your imagination. I felt like I was playing D&D by myself.

Damnit, WWE! Just give us back GM mode!

And YES, I do know how to play the game. I spent several hours on Youtube watching tutorials.. Pros:

Good story

Nice soundtrack

Very addictive

Reminds me Gameboy Advance RPG games

Cons:

Short story (and no free play after ending)

Bugs:

Main character died at final boss. After this ending was very funny, because you were walking and talking dead (I mean flashing character)
